Our free pantry is a small reflection of what a caring community can do together. What you see here is a mix of what's grown in local gardens and what's shared from the heart. Fresh fruit, masa, rice, and a few essentials that can make the difference in a family's week. Every item has a story and every contribution helps keep this table full. It reminds us that generosity is not about abundance, it's about compassion. Take what you need. Give what you can. Together we keep the circle strong.
